

Call for Entries

Student Design Competition – VisCom Brochure

The Visual Communication Division is accepting design entries for its 2008 brochure. Content and visuals will be provided on the VisCom website, <http://aejmc.net/viscom/calls/index.html>, though entries may incorporate other visuals (copyrighted work must be accompanied by permission). There is no limitation on page number or format. Color is welcome. Visuals can be used as illustrations and/or background. If people are shown, ethnicity and gender should be balanced. Resolution of visuals will not be part of the judging criteria. Entries should be submitted by email as PDF attachments no larger than 10 megabytes.

As many as three awards will be given: $100 for first place, $50 each for second-place and third-place. All winning entries will be printed and distributed at the 2008 AEJMC convention.

Participants must be journalism/mass communication students registered for the current semester/quarter. Entries must be submitted to VisCom Membership Chair Meg Spratt by May 1, 2008 (mspratt@u.washington.edu). Winners will be announced by May 15.